

Plantera challenges you to create and maintain your virtual garden by adding new plants, bushes, trees and animals. As you play and expand, cute blue creatures called helpers will be attracted to your work and aid you on your quest to keep the garden tidy and nice. They can also harvest your plants. You can do the work yourself or let your helpers do the chores as you sit back and relax. They even work on your garden when you are not playing - and if you are lucky - nice surprises might be waiting for you to collect upon your return. But watch out for the evil critters trying to infest your garden... You can chase them away or upgrade with a guard-dog to run them off! New plants, bushes, trees and animals unlock as you level up, and the game offers a great collection of achievements to collect.

Plantera is a cute and adorable harvesting game for players of all ages and experience levels. It offers many upgrades, fun gameplay, and your very own garden to watch.

Store description: In Plantera you build your own garden and watch it grow with new plants, bushes trees and animals.

As you play and expand your garden you will attract helpers, round blue creatures that will help you pick up things and harvest your plants.

If you want you can pluck trees and harvest plants yourself, or let your helpers do the work for you while you watch or build and invest in new plants. The helpers will even continue to work while you are not playing the game, and some new gold should always be waiting for you on your return!

It is good to keep your eyes open though as sometimes some mean critters will invade your garden. Hunt them out yourself or invest in a guard dog to keep the order.

Go up in level to unlock new plants, bushes, trees and animals and continue to expand and improve your garden!
